While Jeremiah was still confined in the courtyard of the guard, the word of the LORD came to him a second time: <sup>2</sup>"This is what the LORD says, he who made the earth, the LORD who formed it and established it—the LORD is his name: <sup>3</sup>'Call to me and I will answer you and tell you great and unsearchable things you do not know.' <sup>4</sup>For this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says about the houses in this city and the royal palaces of Judah that have been torn down to be used against the siege ramps and the sword <sup>5</sup>in the hands of the Babylonians: 'They will be destroyed, and I will burn them down.' <sup>6</sup>They will be destroyed, and I will burn them down.

Questions for Scattered Servants

1. Where have we been sent to serve?
2. What are God's dreams for our workplaces and communities?
3. How does he want us to partner with him?
